

A Workshop on Beneficial Use of Dredged Materials for Resilient Tidal Marsh Restoration and Creation

September 28, 2017 11:00am to 4:00pm

The Maritime Aquarium, Norwalk, CT

Agenda

10:30am – 11:00am	Registration
11:00am – 11:15am	Welcome and Workshop Overview
11:15am – 11:45am	Case Study: New York
11:45am – 12:15pm	Case Study: New Jersey
12:15pm – 12:30pm	Facilitated Discussion of Case Study Findings
12:30pm – 1:30pm	Working Lunch – “Tables of Interest”
1:30pm – 2:15pm	Panel Discussion: Foundation, Federal and NGO Partners
2:15pm – 2:45pm	Case Study: Rhode Island
2:45pm – 3:15pm	Connecticut Feasibility Assessment – Preliminary Findings
3:15pm – 3:30pm	Facilitated Discussion of Case Study Findings
3:30pm – 4:00pm	Looking Forward – Opportunities and Needs

Workshop sponsored by the Department of Marine Sciences and the Connecticut Institute for Resilience and Climate Adaptation at the University of Connecticut with funding from the Connecticut Department of Housing Sandy Recovery Program